Trinity's Table last Sunday

Tonight, we served 364 meals. In-house, we had spaghetti with meatballs, tossed salad, green beans, mixed fruit, garlic toast, deserts, and drinks. We added apricots and cookies to our take-out meals.

In addition to our regular superstars, we had two young volunteers (one is a senior at West Virginia University and one is a recent grad) who worked ALL DAY LONG, making 10 pans of baked spaghetti to use for a later meal. Then, our friends came from Village Chapel to serve -- it was a wonderful day! We are so thankful for so many people who give their time, talent and treasure to Trinity's Table.

Thanks to Charleston Bread and Sugar Pie Bakery for your continued donations!

They were my weekly opportunity to step outside of what I might want or like, and to give thanks and praise to God, whatever form that takes. My Webster's says worship is: "a church service or other rite showing reverence or devotion for a deity; religious homage or veneration." I am not mentioned anywhere. And frankly, maybe I should not be.

After we get back to our regular schedule we will be conducting a survey about this summer experiment. Please take time to consider it, pray on it and fill it out. And I pray you take time to worship.

God's peace,
Pastor R.

A message from Pastor Randy:

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ:

We are flying into the home stretch of summer; I know that because I just celebrated my birthday and that has always signaled the end of summer for me. As a child, we always went on vacation the first two weeks of August. We would end the trip with my birthday, come home and almost immediately school would start and summer was over. The big yellow kid catchers are plying the roads, the Perseids have flown, plans for Labor Day and Rally Day and Reformation are in the works. Summer is drawing to an end.

It has been a busy and productive summer. We sent campers to Camp Luther, and had VBS, our picnic, Christmas in July and other activities. Trinity's Table continues weekly, we have welcomed guests from Indiana, Kentucky, Pennsylvania, Ohio and elsewhere, and the building always seems to have something happening. KPCC's counselor is in full swing, at least three AA groups are meeting every week, and the list goes on.

One thing we have done that has arguably reduced our summer busyness is to go to a single Sunday morning service at 10:00 each week. I know some have liked it, some have tolerated it, and some will not come back until we do it like we always have. Some like one style of service and some like the other. Indeed, some only come to the service style they prefer. I find it all very interesting. I have never really thought that worship was about me and what I liked. If I do not like the hymns or the style, so what, they were not for me. They were for God.
