

Thank you to everyone who helped make CWU World Day of Prayer a huge success.

We received many compliments about the program, our hospitality, and the delicious food! A huge "WOW" to Jonalee for organizing the event, the colorful program participants, the food donators, and the kitchen workers.

Everything appreciated!

THERE WILL BE NO OPEN MIC ON FRIDAY

A First Communion class is being offered tomorrow, Wednesday, March 7, at 5:30 in the Chancel area. Anyone is welcome.

Remember Daylight Saving time begins this Sunday, March 11. Spring forward.

Camp Luther applications are now available on-line. Scholarships will be available through Trinity. A considerable discount in fees is offered for registration before May 1. Try to get your applications to Pastor by tax day so that we might take advantage of the discount.

Our Sunflower Box for March is waiting for your donations of liquid dish detergent and window/multi-purpose spray cleaner. Many thanks for your generosity!

Trinity's Table last Sunday

From Lee:

Tonight we served 216 meals. Scott's marvelous meat loaf, with mashed potatoes and gravy, green beans, fresh garden salad, applesauce, bread and butter (thank you Charleston Bread), We also served milk, coffee, water and desserts (thank you Sugar Pie Bakery and Spilman, Thomas & Battle). Our fresh produce for the salad and the milk was a gift from an anonymous donor.

Many thanks to our regulars in the morning crew and those in the evening crew.

Sara Busse

Plan to come to the Palm Sunday Salad Luncheon after the 10:00am service. Please bring any kind of salad to share! Drinks, desert and bread will be provided. Questions or willing to help set up, serve or clean up? Please see Robin Snyder.

Pastor's message continued . . .

In spite of all the vitriol, we live in grace filled times. Amazing Grace. Live it, love it, spread it.

God's peace, Pastor R.

A message from Pastor Randy:

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ:

Every year about this time I marvel at the goings on at the capitol. Not so much the legislature – I marvel at them for a different reasons – but I marvel at the groups that come to Charleston to lobby and to cajole and to work on their legislative agenda. I have always considered myself a politically astute individual. I am addicted to the news, I have not missed an opportunity to vote in nearly fifty years of eligibility, I have even run for office. But I cannot imagine making a sign, getting in my car, driving for hours to a strange city, standing in the rain or cold or sun for hours, and yelling until I was hoarse in order to have some stranger maybe see things my way. At least not for political reasons – WVU football is a different story. But every year at this time, thousands come. I know, I live and work here in the East End – this is where they come.

We have had miners and coal executives; labor representatives from every walk of life; pro-lifers and pro-choicers; parolees and police; teachers and school superintendents; pig farmers and pot grower; children and geriatrics, all showing up during this time of year in the hope of making their voices heard. I get aggravated with the traffic and especially when I can't find a parking spot at the church or get something to eat at one of the local restaurants, but I must admit, on the whole, I am amazed.

I am amazed at the conviction, the tenacity, the drive of the individuals. I am amazed at the communities that are formed and the excitement they raise. I am amazed at this place and time – the freedom that groups of such diversity can come together, yell at those in power, and know they can return home without government repercussions. Pretty amazing. Continued
